GWB-2024 is an international event celebrated globally in the month of February to popularize science education in the higher education sector among the mass irrespective of gender. The event is an initiative of IUPAC and is consistently being organized since last five years just to increase the participation of women and girl in science (STEM) education. This year's theme of GWB-2024 was "Catalyzing diversity in Science" and Association of Chemistry Teachers, Mumbai is taking the initiative to hold this GWB event in different parts of India.

We, the Chemical Society, Department of Chemistry, was also become a part of this Global celebration by holding an offline lecture to motivate our undergraduate students towards higher education. Dr. Pallabi Borah, a chemistry faculty of Assam Don Bosco University, Panikhaiti, Guwahati was present amongst us as a resource person for this year's GWB-2024 event. She discussed various issues like self-motivation, time managements, different scholarship programmes etc. which are very much relevant in pursuing a carrier in chemistry. The interaction with the students was really very encouraging.
