Mr. Dutta an alumnus of Nalbari college, is presently working as a District Project Coordinator, Child Helpline, Nalbari. He has a profound interest in Pearl Cultivation which is a growing area of high demand. He emphasized on how a person can be financially benefited by engaging themselves in fresh water pearl cultivation by investing nominal time, money and manpower. The interactive session conducted by him was proven to be very fruitful as many of our students have shown keen interest in the challenging task. In future a hands-on training session will be arranged for greater benefit of the student community. At present, china is the world’s topmost producer of fresh water pearl and India is the third largest pearl producing country in the world. So, there is an enormous scope in the fresh water pearl cultivation and more and more people may join hands together to get engaged in this profitable business.
