She talked about Career opportunities in Forensic Science and discussed in detail about the role of Chemistry in solving the cases they have encountered in their department on a regular basis. She emphasized on how some basic theoretical knowledge can be applied to solve some mysterious crime related cases. By sharing her experiences with the students as well as the faculty members, she also told that she finds the job to be really interesting and challenging. There is an increasing demand of skilled professionals in Forensic sectors as more and more regional centers of Forensic Laboratories will be opened up in near future.
