

Experiential learning is crucial for college students as it bridges the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application, enhancing understanding and retention of information. By engaging in real-world experiences such as internships, research projects, and service learning, students develop critical skills like problem-solving, teamwork, and communication, which are highly valued in the workforce. This hands-on approach increases student engagement and motivation, fosters personal growth and self-awareness, and provides invaluable career preparation by allowing students to explore different fields and build professional networks. Additionally, experiential learning cultivates a sense of social and civic responsibility, encouraging students to contribute to their communities and become active, informed citizens. Overall, integrating experiential learning into higher education equips students with the skills, experiences, and insights necessary for personal and professional success in a rapidly changing world.

With the flow of the changing environment, Nalbari College has adeptly kept pace by incorporating various experiential learning methods to enhance academic learning. This forward-thinking approach engages students in hands-on activities, real-world problem-solving, and collaborative projects, fostering a richer understanding of their subjects. By integrating these methods, Nalbari College aims to develop students' minds holistically, ensuring they acquire not only theoretical knowledge but also practical skills crucial for their future careers. The college's commitment to experiential learning bridges the gap between classroom concepts and real-life applications, promoting critical thinking, creativity, and a deeper appreciation for their fields of study. This initiative not only enriches the academic experience but also prepares students to meet the challenges of an ever-evolving global landscape. As a result, Nalbari College students are better equipped to navigate their academic pursuits and future professional endeavors with both confidence and competence, truly embodying the spirit of learning by doing.

Field visit to Bardowa (2019):

Field study is an important aspect of formal education as it contributes towards the mental and intellectual development of students. Keeping this point in view, the students of Post Graduate classes of Assamese Department, Nalbari College, were taken to the Vaishnavite monastery of Bardowa on 28/02/2019. Bardowa or Batadraba is a sacred pilgrimage of Assam. The great Assamese Vaishnavite guru Srimanta Sankardev established the monastery here in 1468. Situated at a distance of eighteen kilometers from Nagaon town, this monastery or satra holds special significance as it is associated with Srimanta Sankardev's childhood, youth and vocation. The monastery is surrounded by the sprawling campus of 286 bighas of land, and this is the place from where the Vishnavite leader started spreading the ek saran naam dharma, that is, the cult which pledges devotion to Lord Vishnu alone.

Field visit to Tezpur (2020):

Field study is an inseparable part of modern education system. Field visit imparts firsthand knowledge about culture, sculpture, art, architecture, etc. With that purpose in mind, the students of Post Graduate classes of Assamese Department, Nalbari College, were taken to Tezpur on 18-02-2020. Tezpur was a part of the Koch kingdom in the ninth century, but, afterwards, it went under the Ahom rule. The Ahoms played a significant role in building the city of Tezpur as we find it today. Tezpur was selected as the place of field study so that the students could gather information regarding the historical and political significance of the place.

A field visit to Akashiganga and Maha Mrityunjay Mandir (2021):

Akashiganga is a waterfall located about 50k.m south-east of Doboka-Dimapur road of Nagaon district. Several archaeological remains can be found in this place. According to the ancient myth Goddess Sati immolated herself in the sacred fire that was prepared for the Yagyas of her father who had shown disrespect to Mahadev. The grief stricken Mahadev had carried the burnt body of Sati and was on the verge of destroying the universe by dancing the Tandav. Lord Vishnu intervened and dismembered Sati's dead body with his Chakra into 108 pieces. One piece is believed to have fallen near in Akashiganga. Therefore, devotees take a dip in the water to be blessed by the Goddess. Some remains of stone temple are seen near the waterfall. Mahamrityunjay is another temple located in Nagaon district. This temple is special in its architectural sense as it is built in for, a shivlinga in the month of February 2021 and its height is 126 feet. Visit to both these historical places provide lots of pleasure and knowledge.

Field visit to Dirgheswari Mandir & Doulgobinda Mandir (2022):

The trip to Dirgheswari temple took place on 08/01/2022. This temple is situated on Sitachal hill, near Rangmahal, North Guwahati. This temple was built by the Ahom king Siva Singha and it is one of the prime places of worship of the Shakti cult. This devalaya or temple is known for its annual Durga Puja. There is an idol of the goddess Durga in the sanctum sanctorum, which is housed in a small underground cave. Many stone statues have been excavated from temple premises of Dirgheswari.

Field visit to SriSurjya Pahar (2023):

Sri Surjya Pahar is located about 12 k.m of south-east of Goalpara district of Assam. This archaeological site is surrounded by numerous rock cut idols and a long hill with Shivalingas. Apart from Hindu Shivalingas it has been observed here the idols of Buddhist stupas and Jain Tirthankaras. According to ancient legend, people have found 99999 Shivalingas were engraved here by Vyasha in order to build up a second Kashi. Till now no scientific calculation has been done on various sizes of Shivalingas available here. For which no one knows how many of them are still in intact status. It is expected that a detailed research on about this subject will explore various political and religious aspects of Assam.

7. Workshop on C.U.E.T Preparation.

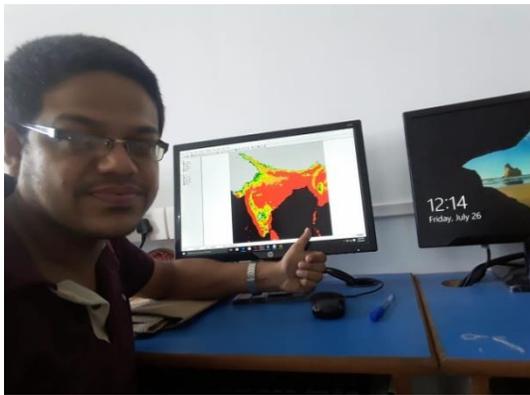

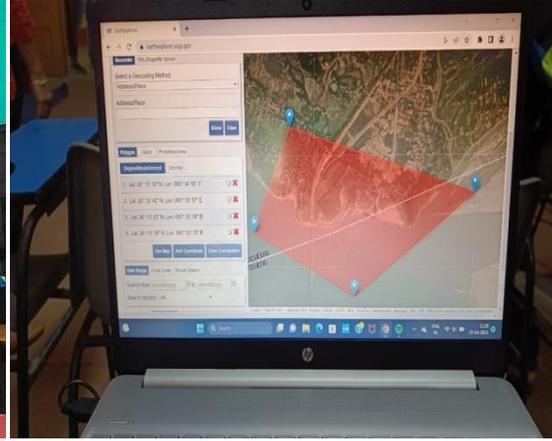

A workshop on ‘C.U.E.T Preparation’ was organized by the department on 24th May, 2023, to guide the outgoing students of 6th semester to prepare themselves for C.U.E.T. Pragati Barman and Prastuti Mahanta acted as the resource persons. The department aspires to continue this program annually.

DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY:

Students were engaged in different learning methods to develop their inherent capacity of analyzing things from different perspectives as well as boost scientific mindset amongst them. With the changing educational systems, different learning methods like project based learning, flipped classrooms, group discussions, interactive question answer sessions were encouraged to generate student empowerment and enhanced problem solving skills. Different relevant courses are introduced through inquiry-based learning through which students were exposed to various issues and given the freedom to solve, analyse or experiment with them in their own capacity and capability. Case studies, concept mapping and tutorial worksheets are provided. Students make inferences and decisions in a given time frame. Students work in groups or individually, depending on the requirements of the method.

Report

Assam is known for its traditional handicrafts such as bell metal handicraft, bamboo handicraft, weaving, jute handicraft, pottery handicraft etc. Out of these handicrafts, bamboo and weaving handicraft engage a large section of both male and female artisans. The traditional bamboo craft industry, besides providing employment and livelihood to the rural artisan, also provides a large scope for export. Nalbari district is considered a hub of bamboo craft, especially in the production of Japi and other bamboo products. Mugkuchi village in the PNB-Nalbari block is the study area of the field visit. The Japi craft is basically based on family labour, but during peak periods, that is during Bihu and other festivals, hired labour becomes essential. In the study area, majority of the households (89%) were dependent on the craft as the primary source of their income, whereas only 11% were engaged in agriculture and allied activities.

Difficulties faced by the rural artisans:

Some of the problems highlighted by the artisans are -

- Shortage of raw materials and capital
- Reduced demand in the market
- Durability issues

There is also a lack of awareness among artisans regarding various government schemes through which the artisans can be benefited.

Conclusion:

The field visit highlighted the fact that targeted specific policy is in the need of the hour

- Training must be provided to the artisans with latest techniques and sustainable design of the product.
- There is also an urgent need to introduce a Common Facility Centre (CFC)

- Online marketing and proper registration of the production units are necessary.

Field visit: 2

Name of the Programme: Field visit to “Brass Metal Industry of Nalbari District”

Date: 10-05-2022

Place : Mugkuchi, Nalbari

Guided by: Dr. Aditi Das and Rintu Deka

Participating Students: 18 students of Economics Honours

Report

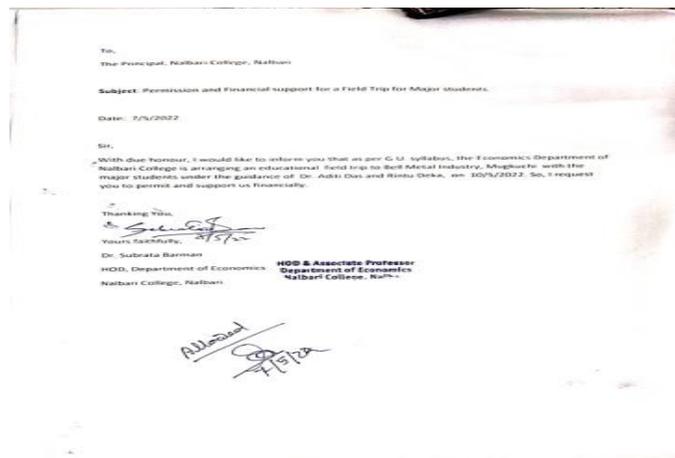

A field visit was organised by the department of Economics, Nalbari College, in Mugkuchi village of the district. A team of 18 students of Economics Honours along with two teacher, Dr. Aditi Das and Rintu Deka of the Department carried out the field visit.

The field trip highlighted the following points:

There are around 16 brass metal industries in the district which is categorised under small scale industries providing job opportunities to the rural youth particularly those skilled in the art of bell metal products. The industry is basically labour intensive industry and is operated mainly by the family members.

While conducting the field visit the students got the opportunity to meet Arup Haloi , the owner of “Bhagyashree PitalUdog” (Reg: 02/17/00101/PNT/SSI). While discussion with the owner, it was found that along with the North Eastern states, most of the brass metal products are exported to Delhi. The peak seasons of the products are mainly during the wedding season and after the month of September. During the months of July and August, the demands for the products are at the low. Since Bell Metal industry is a family oriented industry the net profit is high. Students visited few industries of the Mugkuchi area and had the opportunity to look at the technique of manufacturing various products and were overwhelmed by the artistic skill of the workers.
